

THIRTY-FOURTH "CELEBRATION OF YOUTH" ESSAY CONTEST

March 15, 2022

Dear Principals, Teachers, and all Dedicated Supporters of DC students,

We would be honored to have your students participate in the thirty-fourth "Celebration of Youth" essay contest. Our tradition is also our goal: to recognize winners from schools across the city. The heart and wisdom in the stories of young people can help us better support them in these challenging times. Through personal reflection, students can see themselves in a new light. This writing competition is open to all young people in grades 4-9 who attend a DC public school or public charter school. Please help us get out the word to eligible students, especially those in grades 7-9, because we have had fewer entries from older students in recent years.

We are proud that students from all sections of the city have been past winners, and that so many schools have participated over the years. Good writing skills are important, but our contest also highly values authentic expression. Winning essays show self-reflection; they express emotional depth or reveal humor. They are rich in detail and personal examples from the student's own life. An interesting story written in an honest, clear, and heartfelt style, can go far in this contest. Students who never thought they could express well have a real chance to win a prize for writing.

To encourage participation, teachers might make the contest an "extra credit" opportunity. They can assist with brainstorming and suggest final edits. Or they can direct students to coaches at UDC. In partnership with the University of the District of Columbia (UDC), we offer coaching assistance to participants who may want some help with ideas, clarity, grammar, or overall guidance. UDC's Quality coaches are eager to help young people develop their writing skills and can also support teachers who may not have the time themselves to assist students in this contest.

The contest due date is Saturday, May 14th, 2022. Winners will be announced by May 31. Please see Contest Announcement (attached) for contest requirements, which are also posted on our website. To be competitive, essays must adhere to the guidelines. Students who did not win in a prior year are encouraged to try again; different themes speak to different individuals.

The contest volunteers, coaches, and judges contribute their time and talents to support the children. Past judges have included authors, professional writers, university professors, and members of the press corps. Community leaders and special figures around the world have written to praise the children's efforts. There is support for DCPS/DCPCS children.

We sincerely hope that your students will enter the 34th "Celebration of Youth" essay contest, but whether they do or not, we wish you and your students much success and well-being. Thank you for the inspiring work you do every day as our city's educators. You are invaluable.

With respect, thankfulness, and anticipation,

Dorothea and Jim Brady, Rebecca Carroll, and Molly Sloss

Fifth Place	-	$300 and certificate
Honorable Mention	-	$150 and certificate

Winners will be announced before or on May 31, 2022.

Winners will be required to submit a video of themselves reading their prize-winning essay aloud. A Zoom or in person gathering to acknowledge the finalists is in the works. Details will come when the finalists are announced.

Prizes will be mailed after June 15. Winners and their essays will be publicized and may be published in a forthcoming book. Pictures, essays, and videos of the students reading their prize-winning essays may be used on our website and other places to honor the success of the students. (Please do not enter if you are not willing to read your essay aloud or have your essay showcased.)

JUDGING: Entries will be judged on writing skills, adherence to guidelines, honest expression, clarity, originality, spelling, and neatness. This contest values thoughtful, heartfelt, genuine self-expression about oneself and one's life.

ADDITIONAL AWARDS: In addition to the prizes listed above, a minimum of twenty-five students will receive an Award of Special Mention in late June. Priority will be given to students from schools not represented in the winner and honorable mention categories. This award includes a letter of congratulations and a $30.00 check.

QUESTIONS CONTESTANTS CAN ASK THEMSELVES BEFORE SUBMITTING:

Did I address the topic? Are my examples and details true? Does the length of my essay follow the guidelines? Have I included my name, grade level, and all other required information? Did I do a spell check? Is my essay as neat as I can make it? Do I want to have a coach review my essay before submission?
